

LEAVES

LEAVES

CONCEPT

THE AUTUMN WIND FALLEN LEAVES

This project is located in Kaifu District, Changsha, near Yuehu Park, adjacent to the Window of the World, backed by a large mountain park and rich in natural resources. The design is based on the Changsha's geographical characteristics of piedmont, with scenes of forest running through. It shows the aesthetics of life with natural scenes. The design fully respects the original landscape and humanities foundation. To explain, it is inspired by the local mountain environment and the building itself, integrating the indoor space and retaining the undulating shape of the original building ceiling, which implies mountains in the nature.

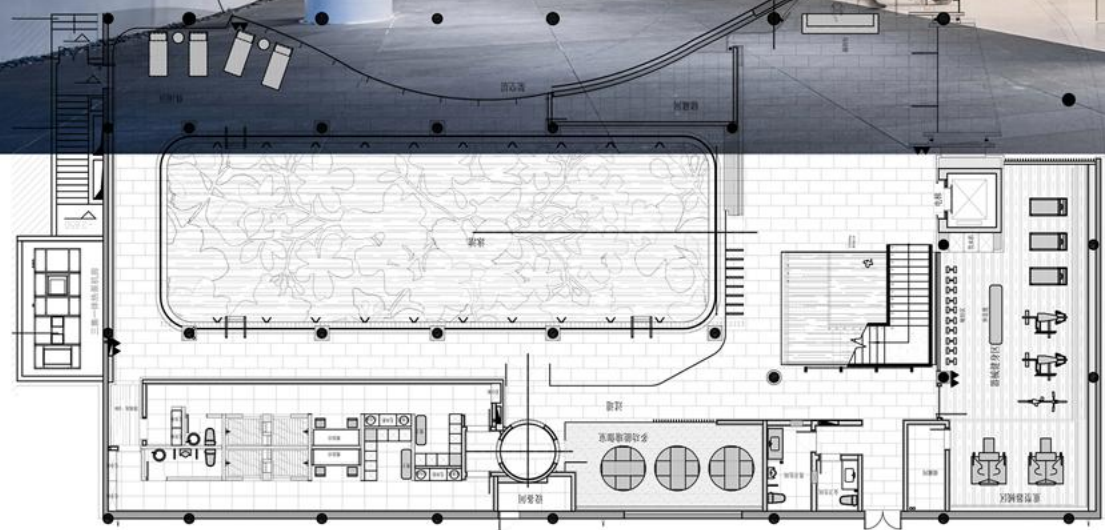

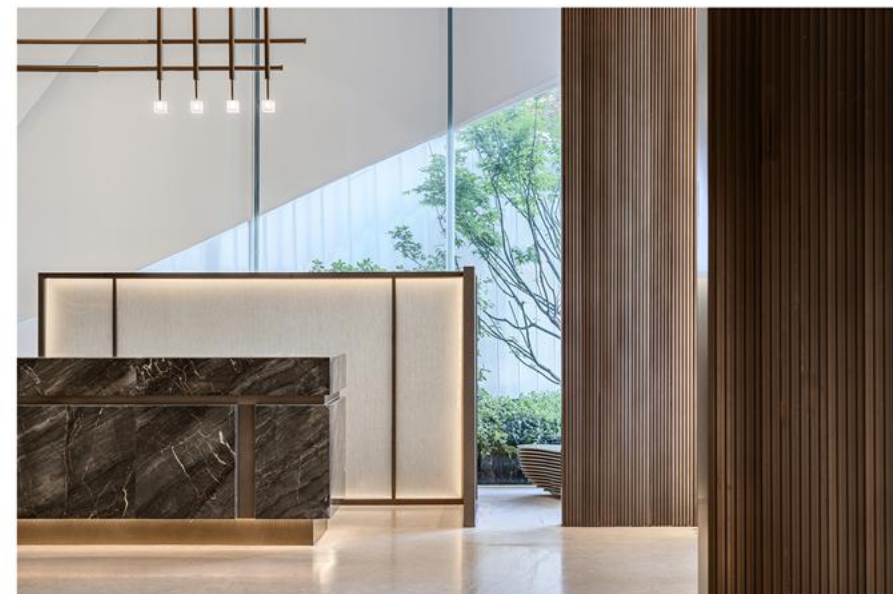

This project is located in Kaifu District, Changsha, near Yuehu Park, adjacent to the Window of the World, backed by a large mountain park and rich in natural resources. The design is based on the Changsha's geographical characteristics of piedmont, with scenes of forest running through. It shows the aesthetics of life with natural scenes. The design fully respects the original landscape and humanities foundation. To explain, it is inspired by the local mountain environment and the building itself, integrating the indoor space and retaining the undulating shape of the original building ceiling, which implies mountains in the nature.

Stepping into the front hall, you can see that the reception counter bar and the space chandelier are vertically and horizontally shaped, just like a geometric abstract art painting of Monterian.

The staircase connects the vertical space, and the artistic chandeliers seem to have fallen into the pool like a rainbow, causing ripples in the pool and splashing water in an instant. Recording this gorgeous moment with a concrete device, it is not only an material existence, but a spiritual bond, connecting and respecting the nature, even if it is just a drop of water.

As a community club, this project is divided into two floors. The first floor is for the lobby reception, the fitness centre with a swimming pool and other recreational zones; the second floor is a leisure area underpinned by the concept of a comprehensive book bar as well as the function of sales.

